Echols defends fire, police commission

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Staff writer

VENICE "There's been some rumbling around town involving my appointment of the new police commissioners and I want to set the record straight," Mayor Tyrone Echols said to members of the City Council at their December meeting.

Echols had announced the appointment to the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners of James Baker, 1329 Robin St., at the Oct. 29 council session.

BAKER WAS NAMED to fill the vacancy of the late Eddie E. Johnisse. Mr. Johnisse died Oct. 7.

At the same time, Echols expanded the three-man board to five members, naming the Rev. John Henry Williams and the Rev. Harold Wilson as the new commissioners.

"State statutes limit the appointment of three commissioners to cities of 5,000 to 200,000 population. This limitation does not apply to cities under 5,000 if Article 2.1 is adopted," the mayor said. Venice has a population of 3,500.

"I WANT TO CLEAR the air on this issue," Echols said.

"We have researched state statutes and in my interpretation of this and in the opinion of the city attorney (Lawrence Hartman), we are legal in making the appointments," the mayor said.

"If anyone is still worried about this (the appointments), I want to assure them that there was nothing underhanded or sneaky about it."

THE APPOINTMENTS still stand unless a court rules otherwise," Echols said.

The number of commissioners was increased so that an odd number of voters members more likely would be present should a vote on a specific issue be required, the mayor explained.

Police Chief Farris Smith reported the city received a $3,669 check from Circuit Court Clerk Willard Portell, representing the amount of fines collected through the court in November.

Adult arrests, totaling 144 on 165 charges, included 123 city and 25 state traffic violations. One juvenile was arrested on a warrant, Smith reported.

Liability coverage needed by Pontoon

By SUSANNE INDELICATO

Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH—Liability insurance is still being sought by village officials, it was announced during the Village Board of Trustees meeting Thursday.

"We're in the process of contacting firms," Board President

Glen Wilson said. "It's very hard even to get bids."

The village's liability insurance policy, which covered buildings and vehicles, expired Dec. 6. The insurance carrier did not offer a renewal, it was noted.

The Village paid Cossens Inc.

1985: An area review of the year that was

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Major local political changes, plus many high and low spots affected Quad-City residents in 1985.

After ending 1984 on a dismal note sparked by the Dec. 26 fire at Bellemore Village that destroyed two businesses and damaged 10 others, 1985 was ushered in with the birth of Nicholas Cody Ladwig at 10:16 a.m. on Jan. 1 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

U. S. REP. MELVIN PRICE, 80, was defeated Jan. 4 in a 121 to 118 vote by House Democrats for a sixth two-year term as Armed Services Committee chairman.

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk surprised many by saying he would resign, effective Jan. 15, after 14 years in office. In a split 6-3 vote, the council named Thomas Gordon as acting mayor.

Plans were unveiled for a proposed $7.5 million Trans-Am Raceway built near St. Louis International Raceway on Route 203, south of Madison.

FILINGS BEGAN Jan. 14 for April's city, township and park elections. On the first day, incumbent Mayor Paul Schuler, Paul Ray Bowler and Von Dee Cruse filed in Granite City. Later, Mac Warfield filed and Bowler withdrew from the race.

John Bellocff and Thomas Gordon filed in Madison's mayoral race; incumbent Mayor Tyrone Echols and Victor Valentine Sr. were pitted in Venice and Helen Hawkins filed for supervisor against incumbent Harry Briggs in Nameoki Township.

IN JANUARY, Illinois began actively seeking General Motors' new Saturn plant and its 6,000 jobs; and Madison County Federal Savings and Loan posted its most profitable year in a 61-year history.

Mayoral candidate Von Dee Cruse placed an advisory referendum for removal of a 5 percent telephone tax on the April ballot, and an Illinois State trooper explained the new mandatory seat belt law to GC Optimists.

Don Kassing was hired as provost of BAC's Granite City Center, later becoming president; Granite City sold $6.6 million in school bonds; and a temperature of 18 below zero was recorded Jan. 20.

Mike Velloff was hired at GCHS as the first ever girls soccer coach; the old National Foods store was demolished to enlarge the parking area for the new store, which opened the same month; and a multi-million dollar asbestos lawsuit was filed Jan. 30 by 54 workers against Granite City Steel and other defendants.

FEBRUARY SAW the Tri-Cities Trades and Labor Council observe the 26th anniversary of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations merger and Dr. Alice Purdes, a Venice teacher, sought NASA approval to ride the space shuttle in 1986.

Monica McAmish, a part-time employee at Gasen Super X Drugs, was one of 11 winners in the $6 million state lottery; GCHS wrestlers won their 25th regional tournament, giving retiring Head Coach Bill Schmitt the trophy.

Year marked by political change

Honors went to actor Greg Terrell, 27, featured in an NBC-TV movie, and Kris Mangiaracino, 7, whose artwork graced the cover of the Air Products calendar. Both are Granite Citizens.

GC FIREFIGHTERS offered $7 smoke alarms; postage stamps went up to 22 cents and a $300,000 fire damaged Madison Auto Parts.

Willing Workers aided the YM-CA's renovation for its new Nautilus Center; veterans of the two Jima landings, including Joseph Wallace Jr., a Mississippi Valley Composition printer, gathered in St. Louis, and former Granite Citizen Dal Maxville became the new general manager of the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals.

Madison firefighters got a new $122,000 fire pumper in March; 500 Venice residents signed up for the new Neighborhood Watch program; and Willie Walker resigned as Madison County Urban League president.

WADE JAMES, Madison educator, retired after 38 years; and the Madison Trojans earned a state berth in the Class A state championship, losing to Chrisman in the third quarter-finals.

CALLED THE "Best of Both Worlds" by Publisher Rick Jarvis, the new Sunday Press-Record/Journal made its successful debut March 17.

Air Products announced a $1 million expansion, meaning 10 new jobs, and some Madison residents found themselves on a bus trip to Edwardsville when their voting rights were challenged.

Madison City annexed the Gateway Truck Stop on Route 203; and new mini-vans for the elderly and handicapped were unveiled by the new Madison County Agency for County Transit in late March.

VENICE SCHOOL DISTRICT got some bad news, losing $2.7 million in assessed valuation in two years; and 10 demonstrators were arrested at the Hope Clinic.

Cruse, Bellocff and Echols beat their respective opponents, and the 5 percent telephone tax was voted down in a straw vote in the April 4 election. Cruse opted to replace Police Chief Ron Veizer, Fire Chief Don Parente and others, while Police Chief Don Bridick and Fire Chief Mike Macke were retained in Madison.

In Granite City, Bill Harris and Joe Holder were named police and fire chiefs, respectively; J. Richard Hooks was appointed Venice postmaster, Jack Friedman retired and sold the 63-year-old family store in Madison, and Dr. Max Redmond was named GC superintendent of schools.

BELLELEVILLE AREA College offered to buy the former GCHS North building in April, with the sale approved in June, and the YMCA opened a Teen Town. And Harold R. Fischer, retired banker and community leader, died.

Leonard Davis, former GC mayor for four terms, died May 4; and Venice Park District approved bids for its water slide.

June started badly when two men were fatally injured in a construction crane accident at Granite City Steel, a $500,000 fire destroyed five business places at Maryland Plaza and a proposal to eliminate 780 jobs at GC Steel was heard.

A six-member delegation from China visited here at the GCHS Band was invited to play in the St. Louis Veiled Prophet Fall Parade.

A $1 MILLION jump in state aid for Granite City schools, and public housing in Venice that promised a facelift, were welcome news in July.

A $1.3 million grant for economic development came to the Tri-City Regional Port District.

Denial of insurance coverage to area schools and other governmental bodies produced big headaches in July and continued into late 1985.

BEN JOHANNPETER was chosen to head the $660,000 United Way campaign; asbestos clean-up began in the Venice schools; and retired banker and civic leader Paul Lichtenberger, 79, died Aug. 5.

R. C. Bush of Fulton, Mo., became the new Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce executive director and Alan Ortbals was hired as city coordinator for Granite City's revitalization project.

Twenty-eight filed for area school elections, scheduled Nov. 5; and an accounting firm questioned financial procedures of the previous Madison city administration.

MADISON HAM operator Terry Parker attempted to link area relatives with family members in Mexico City, after September's devastating earthquake there.

Twenty-six Japanese teachers visited GC schools, meanwhile circuses came to Venice and Pontoon Beach for the first time in early October. Steve Kessel was hired as GC Park District director and World Series fever gripped Quad-City residents.

The 11th month started on a sour note with Madison teachers beginning a two-week strike Nov. 4.

SCHOOL ELECTIONS produced some surprises and resulted in new alignments. Rube Bosworth was elected president of Madison School Board, Dewey Melton headed the Granite City Board and Wilbert Glasper remained president of the Venice board.

Don Kassing, chairman of the 1985 Salvation Army Tree of Lights, announced a record $50,000 goal, which went over the top Christmas week. More than 1,100 applied for aid.

In December, tighter DUI laws became a topic of conversation as the busy holiday season became a reality, and State Police set up road blocks to check for drunk drivers. Long-time business and civic leader, Henry D. Karandjeff, died Dec. 27.

Just what the new year will bring is anyone's guess.

Without question — good health and happiness are wished for all Quad-Citians from your friends at the Press-Record/Journal.

50¢ raise goes to park umpires

By BILL MILLIGAN
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Umpires for Park District softball leagues will get a 50-cent raise per game next year.

It will be the first increase for umpires in several years, according to outgoing Recreation Supervisor John Lakin.

The Park District currently pays $9.50 to IHSA (Illinois High School Association) certified officials and $7.50 for non-certified officials.

THE BOARD WILL PAY certified officials $10 per game next season and $8 for non-certified umpires.

The district employs two umpires per game. Lakin estimates there are over 1,000 softball games per year at Granite City Parks. The increase will cost the Park Board an additional $1,000.

Baseball umpires will not receive raises.

Despite the increase, league fees will not increase next summer.

"We want to hold the line on these league fees," said Board President George Sykes. "We may not be able to hold prices down after this season."

New recreation supervisor sought by G C Park District

GRANITE CITY — The search is on for a new recreation supervisor for the Park District.

Resignation of former Recreation Supervisor John Lakin was accepted Thursday evening at the board's regular meeting.

Lakin, 26, will begin work with the Madison County Department of Probation and Court Services as an adult probation officer on Jan. 2. He worked for the Park District for 13 years.

LAKIN BECAME the district's recreation supervisor in May 1983 after graduating from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with a degree in parks and recreation supervision.

"I've been wanting to get into some type of law enforcement," Lakin said. "I heard about the probation job. It's the kind of stuff I like I'm looking forward to a new challenge."

The park district hopes to find a replacement for Lakin before the end of January, Park Director Steve Kessel said.

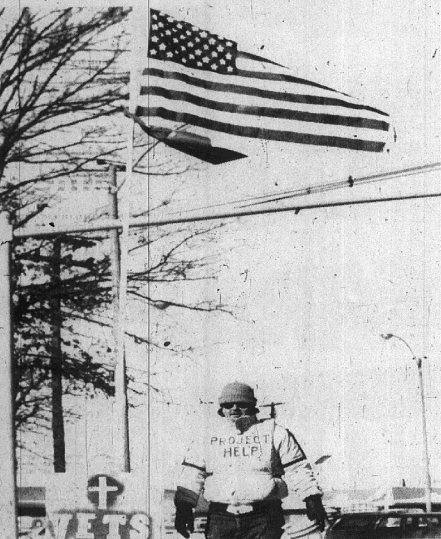

Kessel, who became the top park administrator in November, began interviewing applicants for the recreation position on Friday. He will fill in for Lakin until a replacement is found.

UNSEASONABLY WARM weather caused cancellation of activities at the ice skating rink on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1. Both compressors used to keep ice on the rink overheated. Currently, the board is seeking replacement parts for one compressor.

The rink is operating with one compressor at half capacity. That compressor is being cooled with water from a fire hose and monitored 24 hours a day by rink managers and the night guard.

Total estimated loss to the district is $665.

Memorial Fund collection

DANNY WRIGHT, one of four members of the Willing Workers Club, braves single-digit temperatures while collecting funds for the Granite City War Memorial Fund. More than $1,300 was collected and will be used to build a monument at the Granite City Hall to honor the city's war dead.

Insurance Co. $1,800 for $1 million in liability coverage during the past year. The village may face large increases in premiums because of a liability insurance shortage.

The village is only one of numerous municipalities and government entities having problems obtaining liability insurance.

Locally, Nameoki Township, Madison County, Granite City School District, Venice School District, Metro-East Sanitary District and others have had difficulties finding liability coverage.

Other matters coming before the board included the following:

- A request for funds to help renovate the circuit courtroom in the Granite City Hall was denied. Associate Judge Wendell Durr asked Pontoon Beach for a $500 donation to help pay for the $21,000 to $23,000 renovation project.

Village trustees questioned the legality of giving village funds to another government entity. The courtroom is rented by Madison County and owned by Granite City. It was released.

- A $56,734 motor fuel tax maintenance program was approved by the board. The program was prepared by village engineer John Hales of Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab Inc. The plan will be forwarded to the Illinois Department of Transportation for its approval.

- Two business licenses were approved. Robert Patterson will operate a towing service at 4404 Pontoon Road and Robert G. Roth will operate a laundromat and car wash at 4010 Pontoon Road.

Ship's captain enjoys life on the sea, says it's what he always wanted

Captain Nicola Di Stefano is the master of the Fairwind and, indeed, of all her surveys.

The diminutive 52-year-old native of Palermo, Italy quickly fills a room with his magnetic presence. He is both articulate and intelligent, with a personal magnetism that is irresistible.

Born to a family of Army officers, Di Stefano dreamed only of going to sea for as long as he can remember.

"I wanted to do this before I was born. When I kicked my mother, that's what I was telling her," he says in his lilting Italian accent.

His career with Sitar began as a cadet in 1954. In 1976 he was promoted to captain. Except for his two-month vacation every six months, at which time he returns to Italy to visit his two daughters, he remains at sea.

When he does visit his homeland, he enjoys walking around the streets of Rome.

"I think it's much easier to drive the Fairwind than to drive in Rome. I hate to drive," he says. "I read and listen to music. I sleep and I don't talk for two weeks."

Di Stefano expresses himself vividly with his ever-moving hands and flashing, dark eyes. He is not seen without a pipe in hand, sometimes two or three different ones in a day. He has a collection of some 250 pipes, claiming to love them all equally.

"It's like a harem of women - you can't have a favorite," he says, grinning.

Di Stefano says 25 percent of his job as a cruise ship captain is public relations.

"But I like being with people. I didn't enjoy it, I wouldn't do it," he says.

He admits, however, that passengers can be demanding. The less experienced people are often more demanding. They have dreamed about something or seen it in movie shows and expect more. People expect to sit at the captain's table because they've seen "Love Boat," he says, chuckling. Di Stefano alternates dining rooms daily to help fulfill such expectations.

When asked to name his most difficult duty, Di Stefano replied, "Three parties, one after the other and 200 pictures, one after the other."

"When I am visiting with the passengers, they always ask,

"While you are here, who's minding the store?" I say, "Oh, the ship's a she, you can't deal with a she, so you just let her go." He grins mischievously.

There are seldom problems with unruly passengers. Di Stefano says. He remembers only one case of a mother with 15 undisciplined sons who were bothering the other passengers. The good captain simply lined them up and said sternly, "Shut your trap now, or I'm going to lock you up!" And that was the end of the problem.

Di Stefano has hosted a number of celebrities vacationing aboard ship, including Harry James, Percy Faith and Vincent Price. But no one enjoys cruising any more than the captain himself. His favorite part of being captain is talking to people. "I always try to see the humorous part of life. There is something funny in every situation," he says, taking another draw on his ever-present pipe. "My family never told me there was such a career, but I found out."

Party with your head

The holidays bring family and friends together for fellowship and celebration, but also bring the unhappiness caused by alcohol-related auto accidents.

Since more than half of all fatal auto accidents involve alcohol, the American Society of Safety Engineers urges those who host and attend yuletide parties, both at home and work, to follow these precautions in order to help keep the holidays safe:

• Pace your drinks at one per hour. Since your body requires about an hour to rid itself of the alcohol in one drink, make your last drink alcohol-free to provide at least an hour before you drive.

• Eat as you drink and be merry. Not only does food aid the absorption of alcohol, but it spaces out the drinks you have.

• Provide a professional server to tend bar. Untrained bartenders or people who mix their own tend not to measure drinks and overpour the alcohol.

• Don't let people drive drunk. Call a taxi, arrange a ride, but never let them drive.

• Think about tomorrow. Do you really want to wake up with a head that feels like it weighs 600 pounds?

• By drinking in moderation, ASSE believes you can keep the holidays healthy as well as happy for you and your loved ones.

ASSE's 20,000 members manage, supervise and consult on safety and health.

Venice firemen put out 3 boxcar fires

Venice Fire Department volunteers extinguished fires in railroad boxcars on three occasions in the past week. All three blazes occurred on the Belson Recycling firm property on Washington Avenue, Venice.

The most difficult fire to extinguish was a blaze occurring at 12:30 a.m. Dec. 21 when the fire was centered between the walls of the boxcars. Firefighters remained at the scene more than two hours.

Other fires at the salvage firm were reported at 2:20 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 26, and 1:45 p.m. Dec. 29.

BURGLAR LOOTS RESIDENCE

A burglar broke into the home of Ruby McGee, 706 Bissell St., Venice, and stole a 25-inch color television valued at $800, a 9-inch TV worth $500, a stereo component valued at $300 and an electric typewriter worth $800, it was reported at 7:20 a.m. Dec. 26.

CAR AND STEREO STOLEN

A thief gained entry Dec. 24 to a mobile home at 1500 State St. owned by Paul Turmo. Taken were a 12-inch black and white TV and a pocket watch, and the thief also stole his blue 1982 Plymouth Reliant auto.

BURGLAR TAKES TV SET

The front door was kicked inward to gain entry to the home of Pat Ludden, 200 (rear) Hampden Ave., Venice, and the intruder stole a 13-inch color television, a jarful of money and a locked box containing papers, he reported Dec. 23.

BURGLAR GETS CIGARETTES

A burglar made off with 43 cases of cigarettes valued at $3,802 early Dec. 26 from the Sonic Service Station, 1817 Madison Ave. It is believed the intruder gained entry by prying away part of a wooden panel.

STORAGE SHED BURGLARY

A tool and die kit valued at $340 was taken in a burglary of a storage shed at the home of James Riddle, 417 Weaver St., Venice, Dec. 18.

FINDS BURGLAR IN HOME

Hazel L. Rhodes, 1812 August St., Apt. 16, surprised a burglar in her apartment Christmas Day. When she entered the kitchen at 12:38 a.m., a man in his 20s struck her in the face several times with his fists, inflicting bruises. He then fled through the rear door.

Venice wins semi, 72-66

By DAVE WHALEY

COLUMBIA — Some guys just seem to have that knack of knowing when their team needs them. Jesse Hall is one of those guys. Trailing, 46-43, after three quarters in Saturday night's semifinals game of the Columbia-Freeburg Holiday Tournament against Gibault, the Venice Red Devils turned to their ready-for-prime-time player.

Hall responded with 14 points in the final eight minutes to lead the Devils to a 72-66 win over the Hawks and a berth in the finals against Lebanon.

"Hall is our best player, everybody knows that," said Venice Coach Clinton Harris. "We wanted to get him the ball and he wanted to get it."

The 6-3 junior had 14 points in the first half to give Venice a 33-30 edge at the intermission, but Gibault, who beat Venice in the finals of the tournament last year, came back behind the scoring of 6-5 sophomore Steve Wightman (16 points) and 6-1 senior Darryl Schilling (15) to take the 3-point lead after three quarters. But Hall and Ed Ware (17 points) combined for 8 of 10 consecutive Venice points in the first two minutes of the fourth quarter (Johnnie Marchbanks had the other basket) and the Red Devils were never caught.

GRANITE CITY — The final on the scoreboard of the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium served as a skull and crossbones-like warning to the Metro East wrestling area. Beware: the Warrior grapplers are dangerous.

The Granite City squad established itself as a force to be dealt with by winning the 26th annual Granite City Holiday Wrestling Tournament over the weekend.

The 16-team extravaganza showcased some of the better squads in the area, such as Roxana (winners of last year's tournament), Belleville East, Bloomington, Hazelwood Central and Riverview Gardens.

Although the local squad didn't place first in any of the 12 weight classes, they attained top honors with three second-place, two third-place and two fourth-place finishers to give Granite City a 188 team score.

Last year's champions, the Roxana Shells, finished second with a 187.5 score, while Belleville East finished a close third with a 167 mark.

At the 98-pound division, Granite City's Brent Davis earned a second-place finish by winning six straight bouts before falling to Belleville East's Jason Storer in the championship round by a score of 15-0.

Gary Mann also merited a second-place finish in the 112-pound class by picking up five decisions before East's Jim Arendell handed the Granite City senior a 3-2 loss in the finals.

Dennis Gabel, the Warrior's 138-pounder, jumped out to 7-2 lead after the first period of his championship match before Bloomington's Jon Murray erupted for 15 unanswered points to clinch a first-place finish with a 17-7 victory.

In the third-place round, Granite City's Tracey Morrison defeated Mike Houston of Riverview Gardens, 12-5, while freshman Chuck Sparks bettered Perry Payton of Bloomington by a 7-5 margin.

Brett Carner and Mike Pengolo each dropped decisions in their third place bouts, while Paul Brandt picked up a fifth-place finish by pinning McClure's Henry Miller in the consolation round.

Warrior coach Walt Whitaker was pleased not only with the final result, but also with the determination his grapplers exhibited during the two-day tournament.

"I was pleased with the way we wrestled," he said. "I thought that all our kids gave 100 percent. There were a lot of tough kids and tough teams here. We don't have any real outstanding kids, but we do have a lot of balance."

"This win should help our confidence. This was our toughest test of the year so far, and we were able to win without three of our senior starters (Tom Sparks, Chris Greer and Tracey McElroy). We've got about half a team of seniors, and half are underclassmen. These kids all work together real well."

The undefeated Warriors are set to face Pekin in a dual meet next Saturday.

Red Devil comeback falls short, 75-74

By DAVE WHALEY

COLUMBIA — Not all of the games in this year's Columbia-Freeburg Holiday Tournament were exciting.

Fortunately, however, the championship game was. Unfortunately, the outcome was a sad one for Venice Red Devils' fans, as Lebanon's Ronald Vann hit a short jump shot from the right side with four seconds left to give the Greyhounds a 75-74 triumph and their third Columbia-Freeburg title.

Despite the loss, the Red Devils (now 8-2), falling in an effort to win their 12th title, have left an impression on everyone. The overwhelming choice as the tournament's most valuable player was Venice's Jesse Hall, who ravaged the tourney's record book.

The 6-3 junior had 37 points in the final, giving him 139 for the tournament, an average of 34.8 per game. The point total is a record (old mark, 121). His 90 field goals in the four games is a new mark (old mark, 57), and his 48 points and 20 field goals in the first round game against Cardinal Ritter set new standards (old marks, 42 and 18). All previous records were held by Cedric Gardner of Venice in 1970.

"Jesse is the top junior in the area," said Venice Coach Clinton Harris.

But Lebanon was the best team in the tournament, thanks in great deal to free throw shooting. The Greyhounds (10-2 and winners 9-1 in a row) made 15-of-17 from the line while the Red Devils made only 8-of-14.

"We lost the game at the free throw line again," Harris said. "It's a concentration. We work on it a lot. You can teach anybody the fundamentals of shooting free throws, but they have to concentrate."

The game was tight until Lebanon began to open things up in the third quarter. A three-point play by Vincent Harris tied the game at 17 at the end of one quarter, but Laurence Bass and Mike Brooks had 12 points each by halftime to give Lebanon a 37-33 edge. Hall and Ed Ware had 12 apiece for Venice at the intermission.

The Greyhounds maintained that edge until Bass hit two baskets near the end of the third quarter to give them a 59-50 lead. Hall slammed one home at the buzzer to make it a 7-1 point game going into the final quarter.

But Bass, a 6-3 senior who finished with 23 points, remained dangerous with his lefthanded turnaround jumpers and tap-ins, and his 3-point play with 4:34 left gave Lebanon a 16-point lead, 68-58.

With the score 69-62, Ware hit a baseline jumper and Bass was called for a technical foul for hanging on the rim. Ware made the free throw and Dale Turner scored on his own rebound and suddenly it was a 2-point game again.

"That technical was a key in them getting back in the game," said Lebanon Coach Wayne Loehring. "I thought it could have gone either way."

With 2:20 left, Hall brought the house down by following Eric Owens' miss with a slam to tie the game. His free throw gave the Devils a 1-point lead, but he missed the second one. Venice stole the ball, but Owens put up an ill-adviced shot. Mike Ogden missed the front end of a one-and-one, but Ware lost control of his dribble, and Ogden was back at the line with 1:06 left.

He buried both shots to give the Greyhounds a 71-70 edge. Hall, doing it all himself by now, scored with 48 seconds left, but Steve Schleppe (21 points) hit two free throws with 39 seconds left.

Venice worked the ball to Ware, who missed, but Hall was there again to rebound and stuff it with 15 seconds left. But before the Red Devil celebration could begin, Bass spotted Vann, a sophomore who had only 6 points open and hit him with a pass from midcourt. Vann's 8-footer went in with 4 seconds left.

The ball was inbounded to Hall, but his heave from midcourt was short.

"We knew this game would be tougher than the first one with Lebanon (a 71-67 Venice win at home Nov. 29)," Harris said. "But we had three men guarding one man on that
